ORDINATION.

On Tuesday morning last being St.

Peter's day, the Rev. A. H. Wright

was admitted to the Order of the Priesthood by His Lordship the Bishop of Saskatchewan.

The service was commenced and carried on to the end of the 3rd Collect by the Rev. Canon Flett, B.D. The sermon then followed which was taken from the 3rd chapter of Ephesians, verse 8, and was preached by the Rev. Rural

Dean E. R. Matheson, in the course of which the Rev. gentlemen showed that an inward call by the Holy Spirit, and an outward call by those having authority in the church to give it is necessary for every one who enters Holy Orders, and then led up from this to the consequently great and solemn responsibility resting upon ministers and people, as being in their respective spheres partakers of the benefits of the Christian ministry.

The candidate, who was presented to the Bishop by the Ven. Archdeacon Mc-

Kay, R.D., then had the usual questions put to him, which were answered in the hearing of the whole congregation present. His Lordship, the Bishop, at the laying on of hands, was assisted by the

Ven. Archdeacon McKay, Rev. Canon

Flett and the Rev. Rural Dean Mathe-

son. At the close of the ordination service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered, when a large proportion of those present remained to partake of it with the newly advanced Priest. A special collection was taken up in aid of the Church Endowment Fund.

For nearly two years past Mr. Wright has carried on the pastoral work of the chapel congregation in this town successfully, and our sincere wish for him is that he may be endowed with divine strength to long continue in the work to which he is called.

FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1886.

Gladstone has started on his Scotch campaign, and his journey so far has been characterized by a series of ovations. It is evident that he is still the "G. O. M." with the English populace, and that his presence is as magnetic as ever.

We trust that in view of the constant trouble taking place from the closing of the old trails, that the Government will take some steps in the matter. Many farmers make a point of closing the old trails, and this causes endless recrimination in some cases ending in blows. The trial on Wednesday last is one of the few instances where the parties come into court, and as the magistrates appear to have no jurisdiction, we hope the matter will be settled at the next High Court one way or another.

The news with regard to the progress of the Hudson's Bay project has of late been of a most favorable character, and there seems reason to hope, notwithstanding the long delay, that the end in view will yet be accomplished. It certainly is to be devoutly hoped that such will prove to be the case. Too much importance should not, however, be attached to the fact that a cargo of rails is being sent out by the Hudson's Bay vessel Prince of Wales to York Factory, as such a use had been decided upon prior to Mr. Sutherland's departure for England.

The Winnipeg Sun says: The newspapers in the east are busily engaged discussing the result of the Nova Scotia elections, and the causes leading thereto. That repeal was the practical issue and that upon it the Conservative opposition was almost blotted out is not denied. In but one county in the province was the entire Conservative ticket successful. It was a clean sweep. To find a parallel one must seek it in the result of the first Dominion election in Nova Scotia after confederation, when Sir Charles Tupper was the only Conservative returned. The only agreeable feature connected with the contest to men of independent thought is the further proof that the people of the Dominion will no longer follow party without reason. In other respects the result is a deplorable one. We do not now discuss the question of Nova Scotia's rights or wrongs, or the merits or shortcomings of the Fielding ministry. We say deplorable, because attacks of this nature weaken a confederation none too strong, and lessen a national sentiment that it was fondly hoped the suppression of the Northwest rebellion and the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway would tend largely to develop. It is to be regretted because it excites hopes that cannot possibly be realized. Confederation cannot be repeated. For good or for ill the union has taken place, and the result will be as we make it. If it is not now all that we would desire, the fault probably lies to a large extent in that intense partyism that is the curse of every country where it exists, and that causes the builders of our national edifice to be neutralizing the efforts of the other instead of having regard merely to the national end in view.

There seems at present to be some uneasiness on the part of some of our citizens in regard to the Indians, and although we have not heard any official account of their movements, still rumors have reached here of a not very satisfactory nature with reference to their actions to the west of us. But should these rumors prove incorrect, if we judge from the movements of those in our midst, they certainly savor of satisfaction. Of course a good deal of it may be due to their unsettled state in the late rebellion, but when we see their numbers greatly increased by others coming in, and at different points grouped in numbers of about twenty, troops with men passing and repossessing from one place to the other at all hours of the night, very unusual things for these Sioux Indians to do, as they were always in the habit, previous to the rebellion, of getting to their places of abode before dark, we cannot help thinking that there may be something of a serious nature at the back of it, and should our suspicions prove correct, though we do not wish to create alarm, yet it is the duty of every one to be on the alert and prepared to rush in the bud anything like the rising of these Indians. We take the following from the Medicine Hat Times: "On the 10th June the outpost in the Cypress Hills, in charge of Corporal Ritchie, discovered a band of American Indians, encamped a few miles from their quarters. On proceeding to the Indian encampment the corporal asked them their business in the Territories, and for an answer received a shower of bullets, which, fortunately, fell wide of their mark. Ritchie then commanded his men to fire, and one Indian was dropped. The Redskins surrounded their wounded companion and succeeded in carrying him off. Shots were now frequently exchanged and the chase kept up for some time, but on account of the darkness all trace of the Indians was lost. On returning to the place where the firing commenced the police found a rifle and blanket, presumably belonging to the wounded Indian. One night while Mr. Garteley was camped near this town two of his horses were driven off. Just before retiring for the night he went out to look how his horses fared, and was just in time to see two Indians mounting them and heading for the south. Mr. Garteley's son fired two shots at them, and followed after them until the trail was lost in the darkness. At Gleichen a number of lodges belonging to Big Bear are camped, professedly visiting Crowfoot. These rascals asked for rations and were very properly refused. Two steers belonging to the Government were driven off and killed."

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

As reported a few days ago, Mounted Police detachments are now patrolling at different points in the Territories where their presence will be of valuable service in reassuring settlers. The action of the Commissioner of Police in making this disposition of his force is most commendable. It may be supposed by those who are unfamiliar with the conditions of the country and the circumstances of the Mounted Police that it has been decided upon because of fears of trouble with the native population on the part of the Government. This is far from being the case. The Indians have received a lesson which they will not soon forget, and were never in more thorough subjection, or under better discipline than at present.

The determination of the Police Commissioner to diffuse his force is due to a desire on his part to inspire confidence in all parts of the territories with regard to the Government's power and determination to uphold the law, and to his conviction that it will be much better, or a body such as the Mounted Police to see the country over which it exercises control of a certain kind, and to become practically familiar with the duties which it has been organized to discharge.

The Mounted Police is to all intents and purposes a military organization, and it is important that the men composing it should be made acquainted with the actual details of work which they may sometime, if not at any time be called upon to do. Both horses and men will be the better of the camping out experience which the order of the Commissioner involves. The duties incident to life in barracks are likely to be far less valuable, however faithfully discharged, than the discipline of camp life. Both the country and the Mounted Police, therefore, will be the better of the movements which have been ordered.—Montebello.

By the courtesy of the Hon. John Carling we have been favored with a copy of the Canadian Handbook of the Geological and Indian Exhibition, issued by the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. The hand book is intended to supplement the information conveyed by the Canada exhibit themselves and to all visitors to the Exhibition in the great metropolis will be of much value as conveying in a condensed but attractive form a large amount of reliable information on the climate extent and history of the Dominion, as well as on its trade and commerce, manufactures and agriculture. There is included, in a comparatively small compass much information of a general kind carefully collected and admirably digested in the publication before us. The hand book is very neatly got up, and is accompanied by a sketch map of the world showing the new route through Canada between Great Britain and China, Japan, Australia and the East, and by another of the Dominion by itself indicating the location of various products etc. The volume is further embellished by a plate of the Arms of the Dominion and of the Provinces of Canada very neatly and correctly emblazoned in the true heraldic colors.

TELEGRAPHIC.

THE VERY LATEST NEWS BY WIRE

(By Special Telegraph.)

WINNIPEG, June 28.—Teener, Gaudaur, Ham and Stone, are expected to arrive to-night.

The first through train from Montreal to Vancouver leaves the former city at six o'clock this evening. It will be composed of two baggage mail and express cars, a second class car, two immigrant sleepers, two first class cars, two sleeping cars and possibly a dining car. It will arrive here on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock and reach its destination the next Sunday.

Hon. Alexander Morris, formerly Lt. Governor of Manitoba, is visiting Winnipeg.

The following additional Liberal candidates have been nominated for the next Legislature: Mountain, T. Greenway; Turtle Mountain, Young; Westbourne, Morten; East Minnedosa, C. Reear; Rockwood, Jackson.

Gaudaur defeated Teener at White Bear Lake, on Saturday, and lowered three mile record seven and a half seconds.

Ex Vice President Davis of the United States is dead.

Gladstone is said to be preparing another manifesto defining the utmost concessions to radical opponents.

Two hundred miles of telegraph line between Battleford and Edmonton will be constructed before fall. Work is progressing, one thousand iron poles will be used experimentally.

A proclamation is published to the effect that as the Indian band of chief John Smith on their reserve on the South Branch of the Saskatchewan, the band of chief James Picken, north of White Fish Lake, and the band of Lealwan Gamble, Silver Creek Manitoba, are sufficiently advanced to admit some of the members taking advantage of the provisions of the Indian Act of 1886, and become enfranchised if after serving the time required they are found qualified by the said Indian Act to be extended and apply to them.

The Cabinet were engaged Saturday settling the Colonization Company question. It is understood the settlement will be made on the basis of the award of land at the rate of two dollars per acre to those companies which have not fulfilled the conditions of the Government respecting placing farmers on the respective lands. Companies which have expended money in settling their lands and took steps to promote immigration will be more liberally dealt with.

WINNIPEG, July 30.—On the arrival of the first through train to-morrow the military will turn out, and the artillery will fire a salute. An address to Superintendent Egan will be read by the Mayor.

A banner with the words "Winnipeg Greeting" will be sent through to the Pacific Coast.

Teener, in the course of an interview declared Hanan not able to make time now, and says the too free use of champagne has spoiled him.

Supt. Egan, who has just returned from the west, reports the line to be in first class condition. The Government has a large number of men at work at present engaged in reconstructing the line between Battleford and Edmonton. Osborne who has the direction of the Government telegraph lines, says the route has been considerably changed, and become somewhat longer. The line from Battleford will run in a more north easterly direction, and not traverse Poundmaker's reserve from Pitt, and takes in Victoria and other near points including Saddle Lake and Frog Lake. Owing to the absence of good timber in certain districts, over one thousand iron poles will be utilized along the route more for experimenting than anything else.

Detroit still leads in the international match with Chicago by three games and with New York five games.

Elections in thirty-nine English districts takes place on Friday. Ministers continue hopeful of obtaining a small majority. At the national Liberal clubs the majority for the Government is estimated at twenty. Unionists are confident of a majority, their estimates ranging from forty to sixty.

Betting at Conservative clubs is 2 to 1 against Gladstone. Elections will be held in 29 districts on Friday next, including Manchester, Liverpool, Leeds, Aberdeen and Bristol. One hundred and forty-four union candidates unopposed in Great Britain, against 63 Gladstonites.

The Marquis of Lorne will contest Severnside, division of Kent in the coming election, and is Gladstone's candidate. RAINCOCK, June 28.—A force of British troops with two battalions have had a severe fight with 15000 Burmese rebels strongly entrenched near Touamsoo. The fight lasted five hours, the British failing to dislodge the rebels retired. Several officers killed and wounded.

Hon. Thos. White leaves the end of this week for the Northwest.

It is understood Col. Lane, Secretary to Lord Russell, and Col. O'Brien, commanding Royal Engineers will shortly proceed to British Columbia, and report upon the requirements at that place for a station for the British troops and the necessary buildings etc., required there as a post for a military route via Canadian Pacific to China and India.

The young men's Liberal convention which opens to-day will, it is said, be attended by a thousand delegates.

TERRITORIAL NEWS.

BATTLEFORD.

From the Herald.

When Poundmaker went south he was to have been back by the 6th, but up to the 11th he had not put in an appearance.

A monthly mail for Isle a la Crosse, to start from either Carlton, Pitt or Edmonton, is among the probabilities in the near future.

A number of tabular iron telegraph poles have been imported for the use of the Government telegraph line on the treeless section.

A large raft of lumber from Edmonton has already reached this market and been disposed of, and it is said a lumber yard in connection with the Prince Albert mills will shortly be opened here.

The mounted police that was out on patrol in the Sounding Lake country for a couple of weeks past returned to town. They saw no signs of Indians having been in that neighborhood lately.

CALGARY.

From the Herald.

The Rev. L. Gaetz is town from Red Deer. He reports the crop prospects in that settlement as excellent and the only crop, about which any misgivings were felt, the turnips, is doing nicely after last week's rains.

The Halfbreed Commission will close its sittings here to-morrow and leave for the north on Monday.

Mr. W. H. Pearce, Government Superintendent of Mines, will be at Ban. shortly, to decide on the various claims of parties interested in the Hot Springs.

EDMONTON.

From the Bulletin.

A post office has been opened at Fort Kipp between Macleod and Lethbridge. The teams which left here for the landing with the H. B. steamboat machinery returned last week.

Mrs. Delaney whose husband was killed at Frog Lake while Indian farm instructor, has been granted a pension of $400 a year by the government.

The postmaster here has recommended a mail four times a year to Fort Chipewyan, estimating the cost at $1,000 a round trip. The distance is, roughly, 400 miles in a direction a little east of north.

The 49th anniversary of Queen Victoria's accession to the English throne was celebrated by the banders of the temple by a series of amateur dramatic performances.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Farming Instructor Tomkins of Duck Lake, and that he will be obliged to leave his charge for some time. Mr. Tomkins is one of three of the old pioneer instructors that came up with the first party via Lake Winnipeg and Saskatchewan. He was first stationed at Muskeg Lake and afterwards at Duck Lake, on the celebrated "Heard's" reserve. The advancement of this band in agriculture would do the hearts of some settlers good to see what they have done, and it is certainly to the credit of this gentleman that they are getting along as they are. He has always worked for the Department as though for his own interest, and it is his injured health. We hope to see Mr. Tomkins back and restored to health and his old charge again.

HUDSON'S BAY ROUTE.

The London Canadian Gazette, contains the following with regard to the proposed Hudson's Bay Railway:

It seems to be considered likely that a prospectus may be almost immediately issued in regard to this project, though we find it difficult to believe that any person of financial experience would stake his reputation on any such step, for he would, in our opinion, be most assuredly doing that. The practicability of the Hudson's Bay route has not even been proved, the Government inquiry into that subject pointing quite the other way, while it seems to be admitted that the land through which the railway would pass is all but valueless agriculturally. If a prospectus is really issued, those who respond to it will do so at their own risk, and they will certainly neither deserve nor receive any sympathy in whatever fate may thereafter befall them.

When the Gazette assumes to speak thus positively concerning a matter of which it either knows nothing, or with regard to which it is most unfairly prejudiced, it only injures itself. It is worse than incorrect to say that the practicability of the Hudson's Bay route has not been proved; it is grossly untrue to state that the Government's inquiry into the subject points the other way.

The practicability of the route has been established to the entire satisfaction of all who have really interested themselves in the matter. It has been conclusively demonstrated, in fact, by the experience of Hudson's Bay Company and other vessels of almost every class during the last two hundred years. There is every reason to believe that of the two routes, the Hudson's Bay is better and more accessible than the St. Lawrence. There were always those to be found who affected to doubt the practicability of the latter until it had been proved beyond dispute by actual experience. The evidence collected by Lieut. Gordon in the Alert is anything but unfavorable to the northern route, as any one candidly reading his report to the Government and considering the circumstances must acknowledge.

Neither is it admitted that the land through which the proposed railway would pass "is all but valueless agriculturally." A great deal of it is a first-class farming and grazing country.

But it is not on this that the road will have to depend for its success; it is upon the magnificent stretch of prairie country, both north and south of the international boundary, which it will tap and whose products it will carry to the British markets. The wheat of almost the whole Canadian and American Northwest will pass over it.

The land subsidy which the Government have granted the company is not necessarily to be selected along the proposed line. Over 12,000 acres of the best land which they can find in the Northwest will become the property of the company on the completion of each and every mile of the road. If there, then, is a scheme on which "any person of financial experience" need fear to "stake his reputation," we may well tremble for the future of all Northwestern railway enterprises.

When the conference of the Manitoba Government in the Hudson's Bay route, as practically demonstrated in their offer to guarantee four and a half millions of the company's bonds, is considered, the "doubts" of the irresponsible and utterly uninformed Canadian Gazette appear all the more suspicious.

No doubt a Hudson's Bay Railway prospectus has been issued. It is also beyond peradventure that those who respond to it will "deserve no sympathy"; but it will be for a reason very different from that insinuated by the Gazette. It will be because they will never have cause to regret their confidence in the undertaking. The Hudson's Bay route will shortly be opened up, and it will pay notwithstanding the Gazette's feeble, if bitter opposition to it. Manitoba.

ROUGH ON MORMONS.

The Utah bill as amended by the house judiciary committee, is in some respects stronger than when it came from the senate. Among the noticeable amendments of the house committee are the annulment of the federal charter of the Mormon church and its dissolution and the annulment of the incorporation of the perpetual immigration fund society; the annulment of the territorial militia laws and the provisions upholding the Mormon legislative system and equalizing the status of religious organizations.

The annulment of the charters of the Mormon church and immigration society takes away a substantial prop to the iniquitous system, and the other propositions destroy the power of the Mormons to reduce the sphere and influence of the federal courts and to pack territorial offices with Mormon churchmen. To prevent this, Gov. Murray vetoed the appropriation bill which provided money to maintain this usurpation, and that is by no means the least good act that the now ex Governor Murray performed for civilization when he was in office. The placing of the Mormon church on an equality with other religious organizations as to the tenure of property is a terrible thrust at the hierarchy, which may be antagonized when the bill gets before the house. Congress may as well wind up this Mormon usurpation by sweeping legislation, within constitutional bounds, of course. This bill is severe, but in the main it is in the right direction. Religion must be protected in all its rights in our country, but when a usurping hierarchy, based upon lawlessness and lawlessness, puts in the religious plea, its pleadings should be disregarded. The system must be slain.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

In an interview with the Minister of Fisheries, the latter said that circulars had been sent out. He said they did not mean a permanent back down. He would merely accomplish by moderate means the end sought for. He and the instructions which had been issued by him to capstern and customs officers on May 7th had been cancelled and in their stead these officers were now instructed to supply a copy of an official circular to any American fisherman found in Nova Scotia waters and if 24 hours after the receipt thereof such foreign vessels were found inside the three mile limit fishing or pretending to fish, then a Canadian officer may be placed on board, and the facts telegraphed to the Minister of Fisheries. Americans will be allowed to buy bait or other supplies for shipment and enjoy any other commercial privileges, but they must not remain longer than 24 hours.

A public meeting was held in Montreal when resolutions of sympathy with the sufferers by the Vancouver fire were adopted. The mayor of Vancouver telegraphed to the mayor of Vancouver who was authorized to draw at sight for $3,000.
